Collection Description: This collection of manuscripts includes over one hundred letters addressed to Oscar Fay Adams (1855-1919), American anthologist, poet, story-writer, and littérateur, in the period 1885 to 1915, as well as typescripts of articles by Adams. These typescripts include "Our English Parent Towns," "How New England Towns Were Names," a lengthy typescript containing information on many British towns, shires, and counties, arranged geographically. The scrapbook contains newspaper articles, evidently collected by a clipping service, outlining the literary career of Oscar Fay Adams. Only the two folders of correspondence have been catalogued.
