VOCABULARIES FROM THE NORTHWEST COAST OF AMERICA.

EDITED BY FRANZ BOAS.

The following vocabularies, collected on the Northwest coast of America in the year 1791, represent the Nootka, Haida, Tlingit and Eskimo languages, and are printed from a manuscript recently obtained by the American Antiquarian Society. This document, which is twenty-six pages in length, gives no clue as to the name of the author or compiler, although it was doubtless written by an officer of one of the ships which visited the northwest coast in 1791. orthography is of course very inadequate, but a good many of the words may be recognized. The phonetic equivalents of the Nootka vocabulary have been given by Dr. Edward Sapir, whose Nootka studies have not yet been published. Those of the Haida were extracted from John R. Swanton's investigation of the Haida language, supplemented by vocabularies collected by Franz Boas (John R. Swanton, Haida Texts, in Publications of the Jesup North Pacific Expedition, vol. 10, part 2, Leyden. Franz Boas, Vocabularies of the Tlingit, Haida and Tsimshian Languages, in Proceedings of the American Philosophical Society, vol. 29, pp. 173-208). The Tlingit words were identified by Franz Boas in 1915. In the Eskimo vocabulary the corresponding words have been taken from Barnum's Alaskan Eskimo material (Rev. Francis Barnum, Grammatical Fundamentals of the Innuit Language, Boston, 1901).

In the vocabulary which follows, the first three columns consist of a literal transcript of the manuscript, and in the last column is given the phonetic orthography. The Nootka words have been transcribed according to the system published by the Smithsonian Institution (Phonetic Transcription of Indian Languages, Smithsonian Miscellaneous Collections, vol. 66, no. 6). The transcription of the other languages is in accordance with the system described in the respective publications.
